To a good friend
I will always luck to you

The halls,
dark, quiet, haunting, waiting,
Suddenly humming,
the machine begins.
Laughing, talking, footsteps, lockers slamming, bells ringing.
The building becomes a school.

At 8:15 A. M. the bell sounds, 512 students make their way to different classrooms and another day begins at school.

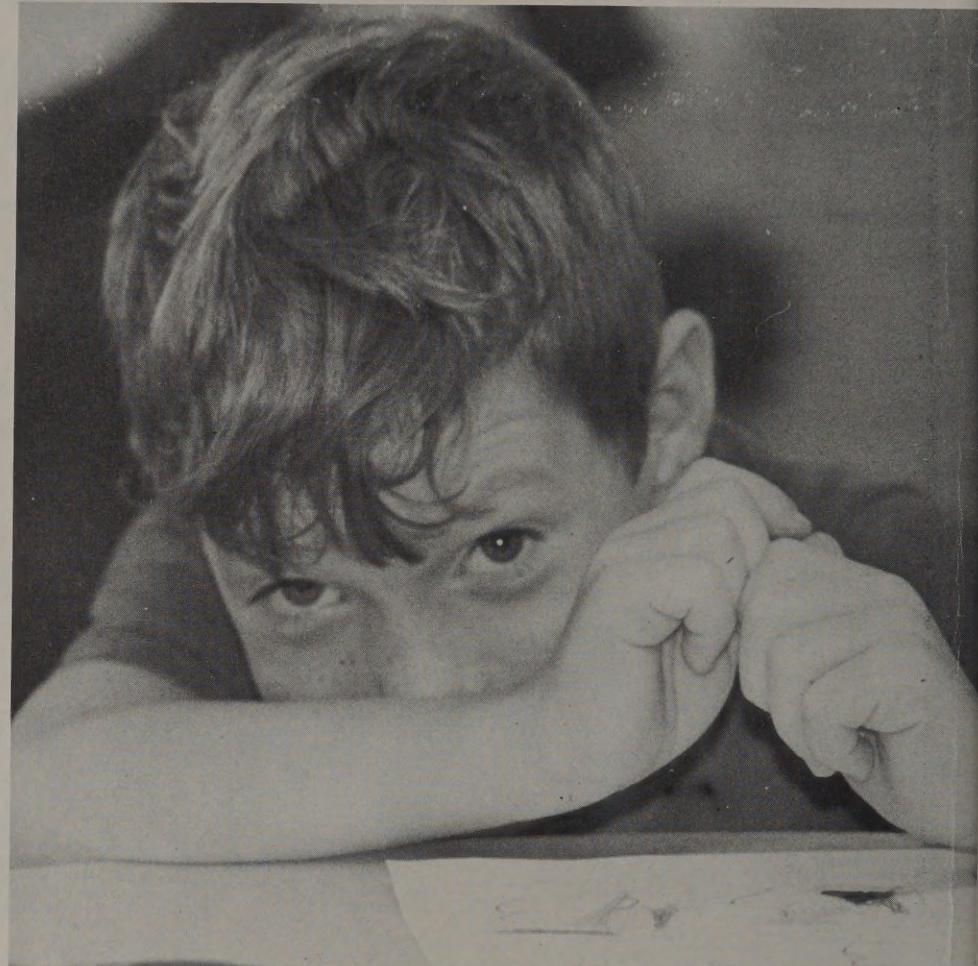

People are the lifeblood of the school. Each one is different but some of the same ideals, moods and feelings are there. Everyone has their special thoughts and goals. Some students are looking forward to college and a career and others marriage and a family.

People are continuously changing, growing, learning, and giving. New experiences in their lives make each one unique. Personalities, talents, and abilities all vary from person to person, but each one has a special place in school.

u.r. Togetherness and friendship are important in school life. Vikki Uselton, Karen Morgan, Joey McClure, Donna McGraw, Karen Melton, Robin Ralston, Gary Armstrong, Jim Anderson, Sherri Uselton, and Charlotte McGraw show this at a B-team football game.

i.I. People are always rushing around. Silvia Castillo and Dickie Hartley try to make it to class before the bell rings.

i.r. Younger people enjoy each other's company while playing around outside. Mary Ann Southard, Bart Dunaway, and a friend see what trouble they can find.

, m.l. Mrs. Ralston is our sponsor.

I.r. The MONARCH staff gets a short break.

When the 1978 yearbook staff began, we had a long road ahead of us. As the year progressed, we learned to crop pictures, draw quadpacks, write copy, and take care of many other details required to produce the MONARCH.

Our work was made easier because of the workshop we attended at Trinity University in June and because of the help and cooperation of many people. I would like to thank the staff members for all the energy and hard work put into the book. I would like to give a special thanks to Mrs. Barbara Ralston, our sponsor, for all the time she spent and for the patience she had in working with us.

We hope that in our efforts we have told the story of B.G.H.S. and that we have captured the mood of the 1977-78 school year.

People At Work

School days are a lot more than simply enjoying yourself and learning facts from books. They expand your knowledge, teach you leadership, round out a person's character, and prepare a student for the future.

The courses that students take are designed to prepare them for jobs or for college entrance.

Responsibility is another important asset taught through school. Officers in clubs, cheerleading, band, and student council membership give students a chance to work and develop leadership qualities.

u.r. Joey McClure and Joann Ewers seem to be hard at it during one of Mr. Stephenson's Civics classes.

u.l. Paula Johnson and Wayne Williams are hard at work during 3rd period Typing I.

I. An F.H.A. meeting is made up of learning, working, and doing.

Reading & Learning

High school English is more than just reading. Sentence structure, book reports, research papers, themes, and plays make up some of the activities in English.

Freshman and Sophomore English students, taught by Mrs. Betty Hodges, are introduced to Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Edgar Allan Poe, and stories and plays like "Romeo and Juliet", "Tale of Two Cities" and "The Raven". But time is also spent writing and studying essays and reports.

Mrs. Marilyn Smith teaches Junior and Senior English. Her Junior students study outstanding American authors. Robert Frost, Hemingway and plays like "The Glass Menagerie" make up part of the year for them.

Senior English Literature is taken from the other side of the ocean. Hamlet, Beowulf and Anglo-Saxon stories are some of the English writings that are read throughout the year.

m.l. Mike Nelson is selecting a book that would do for a Junior English book report.

m.r. Kim Meek looks like she is trying to think of something that would give her an A in Mrs. Hodges' Freshman English class.

i.r. Chris Holding is reading one of the many short stories in Junior English.

Habla Espanol

Broadening one's outlook and understanding people of different cultures can be learned by taking a second language. This is important to the traveler as well as to the college bound. Spanish is offered to fill this need and is taught by Mrs. Jane Bailey.

u.r. Gary Armstrong hopes he's putting the right words on the blackboard.

m.r. Duane May shows that reloj means clock in Spanish.

l.l. Kathy Barham, Gary Armstrong, Wayne Minatra, and Lester Bailey are busy learning to write Spanish.

Logical Thinking

Math solves practical problems! Calculating how far a car can travel on $3.00 worth of gas could present a problem unless students apply themselves in math courses. Besides teaching students how to handle problems of everyday living, math courses provide a background for college math.

m.l. Related Math I and II, taught by Coach Burgess, furthers student's knowledge of basic arithmetic.

m.s. Mrs. Charlotte Harmon instructs students in Algebra I and II and Trigonometry. The goal of these courses is to help students master the language of symbols and the vocabulary of modern Mathematics.

u.l. Mrs. Harmon tries to explain to Andy McAngus the difference in positive and negative numbers.

m.m. Sharon Mathison does not look as if her mind is on her Algebra II.

m.r. Can Math be tough, Mrs. Harmon?

i.l. Mrs. Harmon gives Brad a helping hand on an Algebra problem.

Studying Facts

Inflation, recession, Middle East, fuel shortage—these are current issues making history now. Under the instruction of three Social Studies teachers both past and present events become less confusing, and the students are more able to understand them.

The History courses taught by Greg Bailey, Keith Harmon, and Tom Stephenson allow students to better understand the historical events of America and the World.

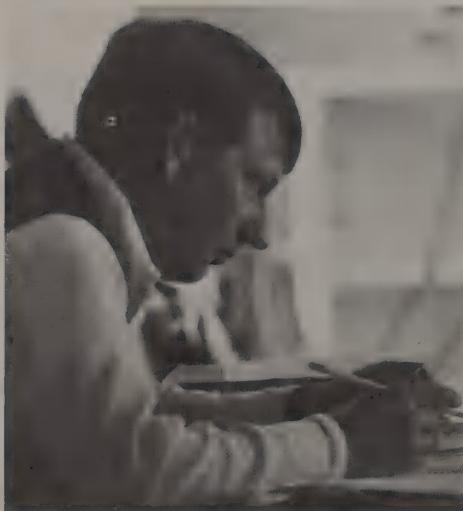

u.r. Cathy Ingram reads over a section of American History before Coach Bailey gives a test.

m. Nancy Mathison, Susan Arnold and Johanna Tipping learn longitude and latitude in Mr. Harmon's history class.

i.I. Mr. Stephenson teaches World History, Civics, Sociology-Psychology.

i.m. Mr. Harmon is grading some of the Seventh Grade's history papers.

i.r. Coach Bailey gets ready to give a lecture to his class about W.W. II.

Learning And Doing

Questions make up Science. Learning the answers, the basic laws of nature, and how to build on them are the principles of Science. Physical Science and Biology are taught by Gene Weaver and Kyle Coker. Labwork and outside projects help students to better understand the answers.

Two quarters of Miss Melba Coker's Health classes are spent in the classroom, but Life-Time Sports take over the third. Ping pong, handball, archery, volleyball and bowling are some of the activities students enjoy.

u.l. Coach Coker is looking over material for a lecture.

i.4. Gene Weaver looks over his Physical Science class.

Speaking And Writing

Student's speech and writing knowledge could be the most important things they learn in high school. This year Journalism was added along with Speech I and II, all taught by Marilyn Smith. One act plays, reports, research, and field trips help students effectively express themselves in speaking and writing.

u.l. Joann Ewers gives a reading of a play for a Speech assignment.

u.r. Greg Williams, Mike Bryant, Tracy McGaha and Joann Ewers are busy in Journalism class.

i.I. Mrs Smith looks for a play for her Speech classes.

SCHOOL DAYS

Preparing For The Future

Barbara Ralston teaches Bookkeeping, Shorthand, and Typing I and II. These subjects hold an opportunity for young people to develop careers. They also offer young people a chance to the rights and responsibilities which go with earning a living. The future requires that young people manage their economic lives so that they are able to do productive and satisfying work as well as having enjoyable leisure time experiences.

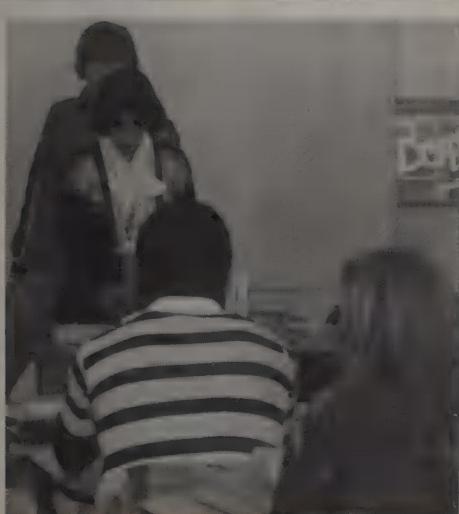

Record-keeping, taught by Betty Hodges was offered for the first time this year.

u.l. Wayne Minatra, Chris Griggs, Pam Boatman and Debbie Smith are hard at work first thing in the morning in Typing II.

m.l. Mrs. Ralston gives Donna Furra some typing instructions.

i.l. Mrs. Hodges gives instructions to her first period, Record-keeping class.

FHA

The FHA members have exhibited leadership in their diverse activities. These activities included a community patchwork quilt on which the members' names were embroidered. This quilt was auctioned in the spring to raise money for the organization. Additional projects were the selling of Danny-Duz-its and the collection of canceled stamps and old eye glasses. The money from these projects was used to sponsor a girl from the Corsicana State Home by sending her gifts on her birthday and Christmas.

Laurie Saunders, the FHA President, has accomplished many things this year. She began by being elected to the office of Area Secretary at the meeting held in Waco. She then went on to become a voting delegate at the state meeting which was in Houston. From there she went to Seattle, Washington where she attended the National FHA meeting.

u.r. Joann Burnett, Sherry Batson, Pam Boatman, and Lisa Meek are a very excited group as they sit in on one of the FHA meetings.

m. This year's officers are Bonnie Morris—Secretary, Karen Seely—Historian, Debbie Northern—4th Vice-President, Paula Johnson—1st Vice-President, Laurie Saunders—President, Debra Mathison—Treasurer, Donna Furra—Reporter, and Carol Armstrong—Parliamentarian.

b.r. Karen Seely, Debbie Northern, Debra Mathison and Donna Furra listen to the instructions Mrs. Hill gives before the meeting.

Opposite page: u.r. Mrs. Hazel Furra, Chapter Mother, is preparing to take some of the members on one of their many trips.

m.l. The FHA beau, Lee Montgomery, gets ready to sign the FHA autograph hound.

HECE On The Move

HECE, a program developed for girls interested in working, has been very successful for these girls: Janette Barkley-Hungry Hobo Restaurant, Chris Griggs-Dairy Queen, Donna Fullerton-Woolworth Restaurant, Monica McGraw-Lynch's Food Store, Diane Carney-Buddies Food Store, and Debra Miles-Joyce's Beauty Salon.

m.r. Laurie Saunders and Paula Johnson are busy signing the FHA hound dog.

I.I. Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Martin are getting the FHA bulletin board ready for one of the meetings.

FFA

The FFA is a national organization composed of chartered State Associations made up of local chapters in High Schools having departments of vocational agriculture. Officers elected at the first meeting attend workshops where they learn new skills as FFA members. They also organize an FFA banquet composed of all members and parents.

u. l. This year's officers are: Tim Bowling, Pres.; Randy Springer, V. Pres.; James Atchley, Sec.; Joey McClure, Treas.; Mike Nelson, Rep.; Gary Nelson, Sentinel; and Liz Andrews, Sweetheart.

Last year, a Rodeo Club was formed from FFA members who wished to participate in the planning of the Spring Rodeo.

I.I. Officers elected were: Sammy Carter, Pres.; Randy Springer, V. Pres.; Roger Braddock, Sec. & Treas.

u.r. FFA members and clowns are shown here during an FFA meeting.

I. r. Liz Andrews, FFA Sweetheart, hangs one of the many plaques won by the FFA.

Vocational Agriculture And CO-OP

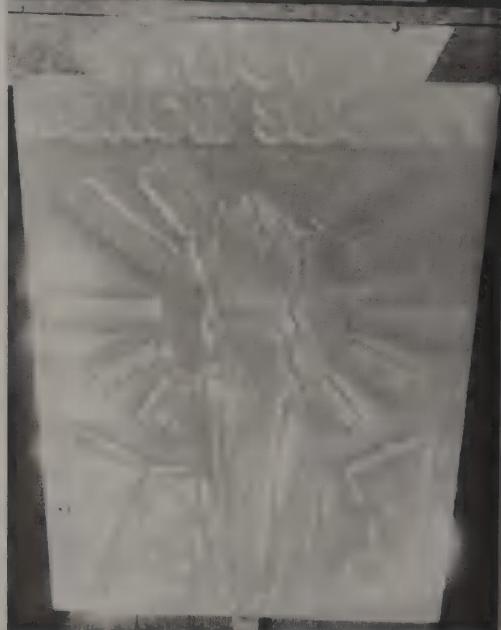

For the boys who like to work, a program called CO-OP was organized. In this program, they get an idea of what it's like to be involved in a work program while attending school part of the day.

Students At Their Best

No honor or responsibility conferred by the school excels that represented by the National Honor Society. It represents the fundamental objectives for which schools are instituted and gives recognition to those who have attained most nearly the desired ends.

u. l. Officers for NHS are: Paula Johnson-Secretary, Ricky McGraw-Treasurer, Sharon Mathison-Vice Pres, and Monica McGraw-President.

I. r. Greg Burkett, Charlotte McGraw, Tim Campbell, Mrs. Deannie McGraw, Robin Ralston, and Sherri Uselton eat heartily at the honorary tea.

People At Play

Extra activities play a big part in a student's life. Performing in a play, participating in an athletic event, belonging to a club, going to a school sponsored program, and even walking down the halls, a student can find something to smile about.

School is more than themes, projects, and Homework. The extras in a student's school life give him a chance to express his feelings and creativity and to develop relationships and personality.

Just Call On Their Names

Each year the faculty selects a Senior girl who best represents their idea of leadership, scholarship, and citizenship. This year they chose Monica McGraw to represent Blooming Grove as the DAR Good Citizen. Being awarded this honor gives Monica the opportunity to compete in state-wide competition in essay writing and gives her the chance to win a scholarship.

By being active in the community as well as school events, students earn the honor of being Lion's Club Good Citizens. The faculty chose the following ones: Sandra Derden, Laurie Saunders, Kerry Christian, Milton Collins, Joey McClure, Paula Johnson, Debra Mathison, Randy Springer, and Joann Ewers.

Who's Who

Each year the faculty selects outstanding young people on the basis of scholarship, leadership and citizenship to be Who's Who representatives. They are: Randy Springer, Vikki Uselton, Milton Collins, Monica McGraw, Ricky McGraw, Robin Ralston, Tim Campbell, Mike Nelson, and Debra Mathison.

Our No. 1. Choice

Being elected as Mr. and Miss B.G.H.S. is one of the top honors awarded to students. It is based on popularity and the ability to get along with people. This year Carol Armstrong and Randy Springer were the No. 1 choices. Carol, a senior, has participated in basketball, volleyball, FHA, and the Senior Class Play. She was Homecoming Queen nominee, and a member of the Student Council. She was also voted Senior Class Favorite. As captain of the football team, Randy made All-District and All-Area teams. He was voted class favorite his junior and senior year as well as Who's Who. He is active in the Rodeo Club and FFA and serves as vice-president of both.

The Leaders

When chosen by the student body to the Student Council, these students did their best to lead the school in extra events. Some of these were: Electing a Student and a Teacher of the Month.

In December, they sponsored a chili supper before the Senior Play.

In order to make some money, they put out a Student Directory. Included in the Directory were school colors, mascot, administration, each student's name, address and phone number, and special events.

Masters Of Tomorrow

Ricky McGraw and Monica McGraw exhibit their ability to be Most Representative by being leaders of the student body. Ricky has supported the role of Most Representative through his leadership of his fellow students. The faculty chose him as one of the members of the National Honor Society, Who's Who, and ■ Lions' Club Good Citizen. Monica has displayed her outstanding character by guiding the Student Council, National Honor Society, and Senior Class as President. She not only was the selection for Most Representative, but also for Most Likely To Succeed. The boy awarded Most Likely To Succeed was Gary Armstrong. He was inducted into the National Honor Society as a sophomore and has also served as ■ class officer.

Personality And Fashion Take A Step Forward

Fashions play a large role in young peoples' lives today. Liz Andrews, the recipient of the Best Dressed Girl Award, has held this honor for the past three years. Even though it is Tim Butler's first time to win this award, he proved to be the favorite for this position. Chosen for Friendliest were Sharon Mathison and Lee Montgomery. This award is based on the all around attitude of the individual. Having this concern for all, Sharon and Lee establish the pattern for being friendliest.

Leading The Way

The Drum Majorette and Twirlers performed and strutted in their new uniforms while leading the award winning Band to success. Besides leading the Band, these girls participated in events of their own. One of these was the Navarro College Homecoming in which the twirlers won a 2nd place trophy for their routine. The Drum Major won a 1st place trophy in the Drum Major competition.

u.r. These girls are: Karen Melton-Junior, Donna Furra-Senior, Sherry Moore-Drum Majorette-Senior, Vikki Uselton-Head-Junior, and Paula Gillen-Senior.

Band Gets New Uniforms

Arrayed in all their new finery, the Blooming Grove, Blue and White marching Band lead the State-ranked Lions at every pep rally and football game. They also played at the State Fair on the Big Tex Stage and marched in a parade that night. The Band then participated in the Navarro College Homecoming parade where they won 2 trophies.

Although it is a very young band, ranging from grades 7-12, having only 4 Seniors, it is a winning band.

SENIORS-Donna Furra, Paula Gillen, Becky Marr, Sherry Moore.

JUNIORS-Doug Furra, Liz Andrews, Belinda Armstrong, Karen Melton, Debbie Northern, Robin Ralston, Vicki Uselton.

When You Are Good—People Notice

The Blooming Grove Lions had a successful season this year with a record of 9-1. Throughout the season the Lions showed determination and courage as they were lead by their coaches to a district championship. Their outstanding performances every week earned them the right to say, "We're No. 1." They are 1st row: Johnny Gorden, Ricky McGraw, Herman Gorden, Mike Nelson, Kerry Christian, Sammy Carter, Jimmy Anderson, 2nd row: Roger Braddock, Randy Melton, Gregory Williams, Tim Campbell, Randy Springer, Lester Bailey, Randy Richards, 3rd row: Alec Hunt, Joey McClure, Doug Furra, Gary Armstrong, Milton Collins, Elvin Faulk, Horace Neal, Coaches: Kyle Coker, Gene Weaver, Bo Burgess, and Greg Bailey, Managers: Randy Gillen, and Noel Ballard.

Milton Collins is recognized as "Player of the Week" as Coach Coker presents him with a trophy.

In our only defeat, Randy Richards, Joey McClure and Gregory Williams pile up for a block against the Edgewood Bulldogs.

Horace Neal makes another touchdown.

Coaches: Bo Burgess, Kyle Coker, Gene Weaver, and Greg Bailey coached the young men to their victories.

Coach Bailey explains to Wayne Williams the importance of the game and Coach Coker listens.

Gary Armstrong-Guard; Jimmy Anderson-Fullback; Lester Bailey-Center.

The Captains for the 1977 B.G. football team are: Alec Hunt, Milton Collins, Joey McClure, Roger Braddock, and Randy Springer.

Players: Roger Braddock-Flanker; Tim Campbell-Tackle; Sammy Carter-Flanker; Kerry Christian-Center; Milton Collins-Fullback; Elvin Faulk-Guard; Doug Furra-Guard; Herman Gorden-Tightend.

Gregory Williams advances through the line for a touchdown as Randy Richards and Milton Collins block for him.

More of the players are: Johnny Gorden-Splendid; Alec Hunt-Tightend; Joey McClure-Tackle; Ricky McGraw-Tailback; Randy Melton-Guard; Horace Neal-Splendid; Mike Nelson-Guard; Randy Richards-Quarterback.

The Lions chose Senior, Jo Ann Ewers, as their 1977-78 Football Sweetheart. A prominent figure in student organizations, she serves as the third vice-president in the BG Chapter of FHA, along with the position of vice-president of the Student Council. She boosted the team's spirit by urging the mighty Lions on to victory each week.

Homecoming--Fired-Up In "77"

From the bonfire to the final victory of the homecoming celebration, the glorious occasion unfolds . . . To begin the customary events, the bonfire started taking shape from a spark to a roaring blaze of spirit. As the warnings of fire sounded through the halls, the theme of "fired-up" was once more expressed through the pep rally.

The B.G. Lions were "fired up and ready" to take on the Hubbard Jaguars as can be told by the final score of 7-0. To begin the Friday night activities, the color Guard from the U.S. Marines presented the salute to the flags. During the halftime presentation, Becky Marr was crowned as the 1977 Homecoming Queen.

During the halftime performance, the twirlers entertained the crowd with a fire routine to "Hotline." The captains return to the field house for a last minute pep talk from Coach Bailey. Margie Whorton was chosen as the 1977 Coming-Home Queen by the members of the Ex-Students Association. Homecoming always brings excitement and joys especially when a girl receives a mum. The cheerleaders show their many talents by performing a stunt.

The 1977 Homecoming Queen, Becky Marr, has participated in basketball, volleyball, and band during her high school years and represented her class as princess in the coronation her junior year. She was escorted by Tim Bowling. The first runner-up was Sharon Mathison escorted by Mark Watson. Carol Armstrong, second runner-up, was escorted by Roger Braddock. The third runner-up was Donna Furra escorted by Randy Springer.

Cheerleading To Play-Offs

Through pep rallies and ballgames, these girls were always there cheering the Lions to victory. There were new stunts and new cheers that helped these girls do their job.

They also participated in a contest at Navarro College where they won a first place trophy.

Mrs. Betty Hodges is the sponsor.

Showing What It Is All About!

The students of B.G.H.S. expressed their idea of Most Lion Spirit in their selection of Charlotte McGraw and Wayne Minatra. Charlotte and Wayne proved to be most successful in arousing Lion Spirit when participating in pep rallies. Wayne contributed his "Fonzie" imitations and his ability to step into the beat and awaken the crowd. Charlotte, a varsity cheerleader, backed the Lions all the way to the Bi-District play-offs.

These girls seem to be successfully building a pyramid at one of our many spirited pep rallies.

Girls Have A Winning Season

The Blooming Grove Lionettes under the coaching of Miss Melba Coker, had an experienced, as well as talented team. These qualities carried them through the season with an outstanding 12-2 record in district play. And the players are: Mgr. Carol Armstrong, Donna Furra, Sherri Uselton, Cathy Ingram, Sharon Mathison, Linda Ingram, Debra Mathison, Mgr., Donna McGraw, Kneeling, Vikki Uselton, Charlotte McGraw, Karen Morgan, Coach Melba Coker, Robin Ralston, Bonnie Morris, and Karen Seely.

Coach Melba Coker guided the Lionettes through a winning season. Here we find her contemplating a previous game and its highlights, as well as its mistakes.

J.V. Girls Show Improvement

The Junior Varsity team consisted of Row 1: Mgr., Karen Connally, Penney Melton, Sharon Sylvester, Rhonda Bryant, Denise Christian, Debbie Larremore, Lynda Batson, and Lynette Montgomery. Row 2: Mgr., Cindy Williams, Paula Johnson, Tina Dobbins, Kim Burkett, Sharon Vaclavik, Alice Hawkins, Rhetta Gillen, Tena Hinkle, and Coach Melba Coker.

Varsity Boys Win District

Coach Burgess had reason to be proud of the accomplishments of this year's basketball team. In the year 1963, Blooming Grove won the district playoff. Since then, BG has not had a championship team. This year a great deal of hard work and planning brought this team to the playoffs. With teamwork, good coaching and superior talent, they are again the district champions. The team includes . . . Doug Furra, Horace Neal, Mark Watson, Milton Collins, Coach Bo Burgess, Elvin Faulk, Gregory Williams, and Cedric Nelson.

As the opponent goes for a shot, the Lions are ready to grab for the rebound.

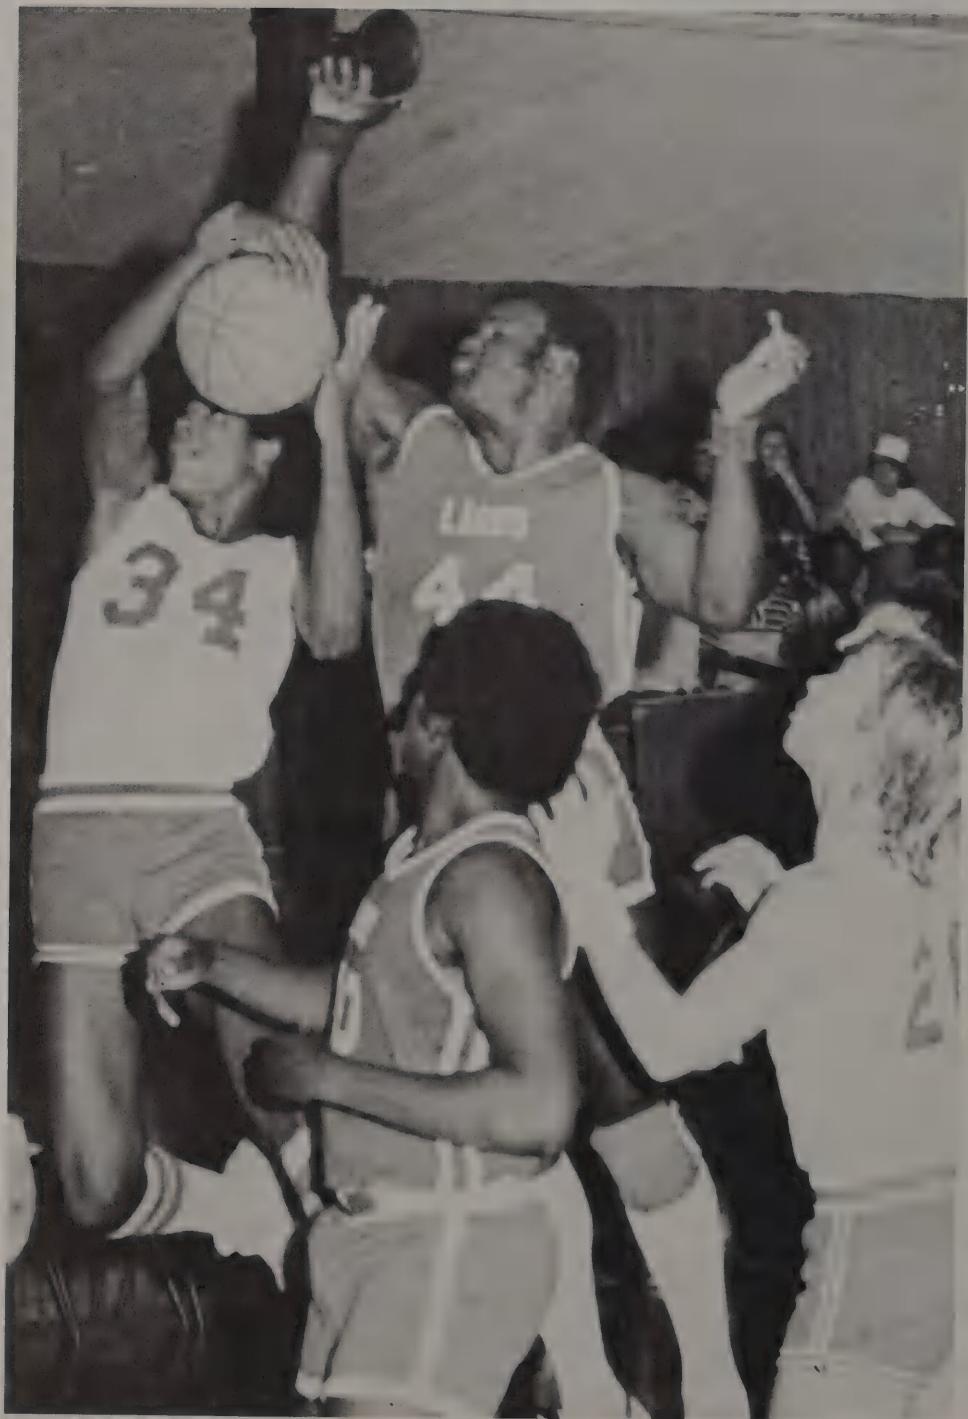

Players include: Elvin, Faulk, Doug Furra, Milton Collins.

J.V. Boys had determination as was proved by their many victories. This year's record shows a 10-2. The team consisted of Andy McAngus, Odell Baston, David Armstrong, Jimmy Garrison, Jimmy Von Hoffman, Mark O'Rear, Greg Rose, Gary Roberts, Odie Roberts, and Johnny Gorden, with Coach Bo Burgess and mgr., Joey McClure.

Debra Mathison, a determined player, returns the ball for a point.

Most Athletic All District

The student body, through secret ballot, elected two students they thought to be the "Most Athletic." They were Linda Ingram and Milton Collins. If you attended the basketball games regularly, you were sure to notice the energy Linda exerted toward the many Lionette's victories.

Milton won many football honors and then went on to help the boy's basketball team go to bi-district playoffs.

As usual, Blooming Grove had quite a few players to make the All District football Teams. Randy Springer made the first team on both offense and defense. Elvin Faulk and Milton Collins received the honor on first team offense. Ricky McGraw and Joey McClure made first team defense. Randy Richards was put on the second team offense. Honorable mention recipients were: offense; Jimmy Anderson and Lester Bailey; defense; Doug Furra and Tim Campbell.

Volleyball is a new sport at Blooming Grove. Even so the girls had many victories. Also, Melanie Russell was named to the All-District team.

People With Peers

School days are a special time in a person's life. Here are a few things classmates and friends experience together throughout their school years. Making new friends, working to reach goals—and then making new ones—are among the most important. While being awarded for accomplishments, or looking on as others are recognized, they enjoy and celebrate victory and occasionally accept defeat. Learning to accept the pains of growing up and learning to understand and appreciate fellow classmates who might be different from themselves is within itself a major accomplishment.

Each school year has a character and personality of its own. Each student has a part in making up their school's character.

I. I. Randy Richards and Joey McClure pause in the lunchroom to get in the picture.

u. r. Donna Furra, Chris Griggs, Sharon Mathison, Steven Bernard, Carol Armstrong, Pam Boatman, Keith Herod and Mike Bryant enjoy some togetherness while the teacher is out of the room.

I. r. In early school years you make friends for many years to come. Nathan Bolin, Natalie Bolin, Ginger McGraw, Cynthia Southard, Matt Hodges, and Raymond McGraw seem to enjoy recess.

Pleasing Personalities

Being elected by their classmates as class favorite is a very special honor. The Seventh Grade Class Favorites were Mark Batson and Nancy Garcia, while Jerry Don Barham and Mandy Richards were chosen by the Eighth Grade. The Freshman Class made the selection of Johnny Gorden and Janith Russell.

The Chosen Ones

The choices for the Senior Class Favorites were Carol Armstrong and Randy Springer, Lee Montgomery and Vicki Uselton represented the Junior Class. Keeping up with the upper classmen, the Sophomores chose Rusty Potter and Lynette Montgomery as their favorites.

Spirited Girls Express Blue Pride

Jr. High Boys Learn The Basics

The Jr. High Cheerleaders helped lead the football boys to a victorious season through cheer and enthusiasm. They are: M'Lis Melton, Donna Morgan, Alicia Southard, Mandy Richards and Johanna Tipping.

Coach Gene Weaver contemplates the next play to send in by Dale Jordon, a Jr. High football player.

Jr. High Takes Action In Sports

The Jr. High Boys Basketball team had many trying experiences in the past season. They had a 3-8 record. Coach Weaver's team consisted of Jeff Larremore, John David Johnston, Scott Tucker, Kelly Smith, Jerry Don Barham,

The Jr. High Girl's team ended the season with a very successful 10-1 record. After winning their zone division, they advanced to the district playoff where they suffered their only defeat. The team consisted of back row: Paula Sanches, Vanetta Walker, Sherry Williams, Nancy Mathison, Teresia Colvard, Alicia Southard,

Younger Generation Doing Their Thing

Spooks, ghosts, goblins, witches, and Frankenstein were the cast of the Halloween Capers. They entertained Molly Gonzales and Noel Ballard who were honored by the title of King and Queen of the Elementary Coronation.

Robbie McCarter and Brett Melton seem to know what they are doing as they promenade to the "Arkansas Traveler." Already for Halloween, the kindergarten recited "Songs and Poems" before an enthused crowd. Racheal Lindsey was the faithful cat belonging to Gertrude the witch. Matt Hodges, Micheal McCarter, and Bubba McGraw express their ideas of Halloween thoughts in the song "10 Jack O'Lanterns." Robbie Miles and Shelby Southard do the "Witches' Polka" for the court. The hunchback, Danny Butler, tries to scare Kenneth Scott in a nightmare. It is easy to see that the "Monster Mash" was the favorite of the audience. On the opposite page, Scott McGraw performs as the "Boogie-Woogie Ghost."

People Who Help

People who help keep the school day going are the Teacher's Aids, Janitors, and Lunchroom Ladies. The Teacher's Aids are kept busy by doing errands for the faculty. Janitors help keep the school building and grounds clean and make sure everything is in working order for the school day. The lunch room ladies prepare nourishing meals.

u.l. Mrs. Mary Springer, Mrs. Ann Nimmo, Mrs. Joyce Moore, and Mrs. Patsy Smith try to fix the duplicator.

People Who Lead

The people on these two pages work together to make Blooming Grove School one of the best. Seven school board members are elected by the public to hold three year terms. The school board members, Superintendent, Charlie Uselton, Don Nimmo, High School Principal, and Alma Bridges, Elementary Principal, work and plan together to make all the important decisions and policies throughout the year. These people work to make the school better for the students.

a. Superintendent Charlie Uselton and his secretary Virginia McGraw discuss a policy to be presented to the faculty.

b. The seven members of the school board are: Kenneth Southard, Richard Saunders, Jimmy Nicholson, Don McGraw, president, Alva Lynn Smith, Jake Melton and Betty Bob Armstrong.

I. High School principal, Don Nimmo, guides teachers and students in carrying out school board policies.

I.I. Mrs. Alma Bridges works together with elementary teachers to help things run smoothly during the year.

I.r. Taxes, bookkeeping, and secretarial work are the responsibilities of Doris Ray, Business Manager, and Emma Hill, her assistant.

When You're Good, People Notice

He's six foot one, two hundred and twenty pounds, and all athlete. On the football field, Milton Collins has the driving determination, the physical stamina, and the athletic ability to defeat the most agile of opponents. For him, football has played an enormous part in shaping the past, and more importantly, the future.

Amid the incessant flow of special awards, visiting scouts, scholarship offers, and even television cameras, Milton has been elected All-District, All-Area, All-State, and All-American. The Number One ranked back, he is a Blue Chip Player, one of only fifteen in the state. Scholastic Magazine, Parade Magazine, and the National Coaching Association all added him to their All-Star list of All-Americans. He has been designated as the Golden Circle's "Most Valuable Player".

Milton's future is written on the gridiron, but as a commercial advertising major, he will attend North Texas State University in the fall.

All athlete, yet in equal proportions, Milton possesses the qualities that will enable him to write a success story.

People . . .

They come in all shapes, sizes, and fashions. The pictures on the next three pages are a few of the students and teachers during the activities throughout the school year of 77-78. We hope the MONARCH has captured the memories and moods of this year which has gone by so quickly.
